

PARKS' TAXONOMIC POKÉMON CARD BINDER

2006 - Present

Contents

- PokéDex Section containing each Pokémon organized by National PokéDex number
- Forms Section containing each alternative version of a Pokémon that does not have its own unique National PokéDex number
 - Organized by release date then National PokéDex number of the base form then logical order (alphabetical order if there is no logical order)
 - Includes Transformations, Fusions, Mega Evolutions, Primal Reversions, Regional forms, Gigantamax forms, unique Terastallizations, and notable Variants
 - Excludes Shinies, Gender Differences, Form-Like Transformations, Technical Forms, and Spinda Patterns
- Each Pokémon is represented by a card printed during the Generation in which that Pokémon originally debuted
 - For example, Pikachu was released in Generation I as #25, so its card would need to be from any set released between 1996 - 1998
 - When there are multiple cards for a given Pokémon in their debut Generation, the coolest and best one will be selected by Parks' objectively correct opinion
 - This objective is still in work but mostly complete

Generations

Generation No.	Years	Natl. PokéDex	Region	Debut Games
I	1996 - 1998	#1 - #151	Kanto (Japan)	Red, Blue, and Yellow
II	1999 - 2001	#152 - #251	Johto (Japan)	Gold, Silver, and Crystal
III	2002 - 2005	#252 - #386	Hoenn (Japan)	Ruby, Sapphire, and Emerald
IV	2006 - 2009	#387 - #493	Sinnoh (Japan)	Diamond, Pearl, and Platinum
V	2010 - 2012	#494 - #649	Unova (U.S.A)	Black and White
VI	2013 - 2015	#650 - #721	Kalos (France)	X and Y
VII	2016 - 2018	#722 - #809	Alola (Hawaii)	Sun and Moon
VIII	2019 - 2021	#810 - #905	Galar (England)	Sword and Shield
IX	2022 - 2026	#906 - #1025	Paldea (Spain)	Scarlet and Violet
X	2027 - Present	#1026 - #?	? (Indonesia)	Winds and Waves

Friendly Requests for Browsing

- Please wash your hands before touching the binder
- Please keep the binder laid flat and in a secure place where it will not fall
- Please turn the pages gently and slowly; maintaining light tension as to not bend it
- If you are bulk flipping pages, please do not advance more than two Generations at once

Fun Facts

- The objective of this binder is to provide a comprehensive log of Pokémon biology, art, and history while celebrating the fun that Pokémon trainers have had over the decades!
- You will find many custom placeholder cards throughout the binder; these cover three different extraneous scenarios:
 - Scenario 1: any Pokémon from the Generation we are currently in. Since the Generation is not over, Parks cannot know what the “best” card will be to include.
 - Scenario 2: any Pokémon that does not have a card printed for it yet. Especially in the Forms Section, there are those that simply do not have a card yet.
 - Scenario 3: any empty slots at the end of a section with no Pokémon assigned.
- To prevent Binder Fatigue (cards bending in storage due to an excess of pages) the binder is limited to 150 pages or 25 pages per inch
 - This is still a lot of pages; this binder is projected to last until Generation XIII!
- Parks has been consistently collecting since he was seven years old, getting his first pack of cards from a Safeway grocery store in first grade

Contributors Hall of Fame

Michelle Cope	Jacob Shimek	Reagan Graybeal
Pam Phillips	Kennedy Cope	Nathan Collins
Kiana Khorrami	Camden Alexander	Cohen Alexander

Thank you so much for your interest, and may God bless you!

